The information herein is provided in good faith based on Adam Matthew's audit at the time of the review and does not represent a legally-binding claim, and no warranties or guarantees are implied.

Disproportionate Burden

Adam Matthew has been publishing digital resources since 2001. Our platforms for delivering that content have been under review and are updated regularly, but some elements of legacy platforms and features developed with third parties, for example content reflow, require refactoring work that is disproportionate to the effort in building a new improved platform. Therefore, these features will be revisited / amended and any outstanding accessibility issues will be tackled as part of our migration to the new platform.

Appendix

Table below gives the list of “special features” within Adam Matthew products. These features are third-party content and have been omitted from the audit. Each of the features’ accessibility status is also given – this section will indicate if the feature is accessible and, if not, if there are any work arounds e.g., the ability to download data.
