

Video transcript

Enhancing editorial processes using AI

As a scholarly publisher, we leverage technology, including AI, to improve content discoverability, enhance user experiences, and create clear learning pathways.

Our ongoing emphasis on metadata enhancement and handwritten text recognition expands accessibility, research opportunities, and educational value.

We prioritise transparency in our AI processes and maintain high editorial, legal, and ethical standards when handling historical materials.